

BUSINESS PEOPLE

versity. She is a member of the Golden Key International Honors Society, Phi Eta Sigma National Honors Society and Lambda Pi Eta, the National Communications Studies Honors Society.

• Stephanie Frederick, vice president and systems manager at Stamford-based First County Bank, has been elected to the board of trustees for the Norwalk Seaport Association.

Frederick, a 17-year employee of the bank and Norwalk resident, also is a member of the board of the Norwalk YMCA and volunteers for the Norwalk Seaport Association Oyster Festival, All Saints & Trinity Catholic Schools Career Society and the Norwalk Athletic Association.

The Norwalk Seaport Association, a nonprofit environmental, preservation and maritime educational organization, elected officers and trustees during its annual meeting in December. The board is made up of 30 members from Fairfield County.

First County Bank, an independent mutual community bank with 15 branches, has assets in excess of $1.2 billion.

• Attorneys Tamar T.J. Blazer and Claire Ryan have joined the Stamford law firm of Ryan Ryan DeLuca LLP.

Blazer is a graduate of Roger Williams University School of Law. While in law school, Blazer worked for the Rhode Island Office of the Child Advocate, participated in the Family & Dis-