David Zamary, SVP Residential Lending at First County Bank, Named Acting President of Connecticut Mortgage Bankers Association, Inc.

STAMFORD, Conn., May 6, 2014 – David (“Dave”) Zamary, senior vice president residential lending at

First County Bank, and currently first vice president of Connecticut Mortgage Bankers Association, Inc. (CMBA), has recently been appointed as CMBA’s acting president. In addition, he has already been nominated for the next presidency, beginning in October, 2014.

“As acting president of Connecticut Mortgage Bankers Association, Inc., I hope to promote home ownership, as well as to help build and support participation in the housing market,” said Dave. “I also will continue to support the many educational seminars offered by CMBA. I want to make a difference throughout Connecticut to increase home ownership.”

According to Zamary, his successful career in residential lending at First County Bank is due to following these key principals, “Best honest and know the business; provide good follow up and be conscientious.”

Dave has over thirty years of experience in mortgage finance and manages the residential lending department at First County Bank. Zamary graduated with a B.A. in Economics from Fairfield University and earned his M.B.A. from the University of New Haven. He and his wife live in Milford and have two grown children. He is an avid cyclist. He is active as a member of Knights of Columbus.
