

On the Move: Business people

Grazyna Maciejewska

Grazyna Maciejewska, who formerly ran First County Bank's Springdale branch in Stamford, is now part of the company's residential mortgage origination team. Maciejewska joined Stamford-based First County Bank in 2004 and is an assistant vice president today, having managed a branch at 1150 Hope Street with $82 million in deposits and eight employees. She holds an associate's degree in economics from Bialystock Economical College in Poland, and graduated from the Connecticut School of Finance and Management.
